IMEC (Marie Cobel) with “Friends”
December 7, 1986

Session 215: Mystical interpretation of the star of David

Summary: If you say you wish to have control, then you are also saying that you have not had control. What you have not controlled is that you have observed your behavior. When you look back and judge your life you are taking your present awareness and observing previous behavior and judging. In your natural state you did not have sin, your earthly energies are the aspects of sin. These are things you pass through and acquired as a part of the physical. Your true self does not contain any earthly aspect of emotion or thought dialogue. There is the celebration of the moment.
Other Comments: This session covers more on the creation triangle.

There is a hint of Kabbalist mysticism during the discussion of the interaction of the two triangles one from above and one from below to form the star of David.

Report by Daniel Erickson